

JOHN CRESTANI

AFFILIATE MARKETING · BOOTSTRAPPED · SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT

ABOUT

"I build tools that let one person do what used to take a team of ten."

- ✓ Left corporate marketing in 2012; earning seven figures per year solo by 2014
- ✓ 600K+ YouTube subscribers
- ✓ Sold over 20,000 books on late-night cable TV infomercials
- ✓ Taught himself to build software using AI; built Bonfire Terminal, an AI maximalization harness for nontechnical creators.
- ✓ Obsessed with Rust, Lua, CLIs, mushrooms, and Mars colonization.
- ✓ Lives in Malibu with two daughters

INTRODUCTION

John Crestani went from affiliate marketer of health supplements to community leader of 50,000+ entrepreneurs; featured on Forbes, CNBC, and Entrepreneur. An AI maximalist, he built Bonfire Terminal an AI harness for nontechnical creators with zero coding experience. No team. No VC. Just AI. His argument: stop renting your tools from the cloud. Own them. John, welcome to the show.

TOPICS

- ✓ AI as Your Entire Product Team
- ✓ What Visiting Russia Taught Me About Marketing
- ✓ From Affiliate Marketing to Software Company
- ✓ Why Creators Should Own Their Tools, Not Rent Them
- ✓ What 735+ AI-Assisted Builds Taught Me About Prompt Engineering
- ✓ Shipping Enterprise Software Without Writing a Line of Code
- ✓ The Death of Online Education

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

- ✓ You had 600K YouTube subscribers teaching affiliate marketing. Why risk that audience by pivoting to AI software?
- ✓ Walk me through building a feature. What does the conversation with AI actually look like?
- ✓ Zero employees, competing with VC-funded teams of 50+ engineers. What is your actual unfair advantage?
- ✓ What is the most expensive mistake AI made in your codebase, and how did you catch it?
- ✓ If someone listening right now has a software idea but can't code, what should they do Monday morning?
- ✓ You run 4 different AI providers in one product. Which one is best at what?
- ✓ The affiliate marketing industry has a credibility problem. How do you think about that with a tech audience?

THE BUSINESS

FUN FACT

John has visited 50+ countries and kitesurfs or skis in as many of them as possible.

CONTACT

🌐 johncrestani.com

DNB

CB

D24

W+

4W

AS SEEN ON

